

PHD PROGRAMME IN ECONOMICS

UNIVERSITY OF GOTHENBURG, SWEDEN

The Department of Economics at the School of Business, Economics and Law, University of Gothenburg, hosts a diverse and internationally renowned group of about 65 researchers and 25 PhD students.

We are now recruiting 3-6 PhD students who will be employed beginning in September 2021. The expected degree completion date is May 2026.

We encourage students from all fields of economics to apply, including (but not limited to): behavioral, development, labour, environment, health, finance, econometrics, public, and political economy.

Department and PhD Program Highlights:

- High quality research. Faculty regularly publish in high-ranking economics and finance journals. Recent publications include American Economic Review, Journal of Political Economy, Review of Economic Studies, Journal of Financial Economics, Review of Financial Studies, JEEA, Economic Journal, Review of Economics and Statistics, American Economic Journal.
- An international and collegial research environment.
- Active seminar series. External visitors, internal workshops, and an annual Phd Conference.
- Intensive Supervision. Students benefit from a high faculty to student ratio.
- Job market preparation and support. Many students obtain academic and government agency positions. Recent placements include: University of Cologne, Stockholm University, Lund University, Örebro University, Barnard University, Wesleyan University, University of East Anglia, School of Economics in Ho Chi Minh City, Inter-American Development Bank, World Bank, Germany Federal Statistical Office.

ADMISSION AND CONTACT INFORMATION

Admission is open until 1 February 2021.

For application and admission requirements, please see the advertisement .

For questions, contact Randi Hjalmarrsson, Professor of Economics and Head of the Doctoral Program: randi.hjalmarrsson@economics.gu.se.

UNIVERSITY OF GOTHENBURG
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS, ECONOMICS AND LAW